

Quality Policy

Nucor Steel Gallatin exists to provide value for our stakeholders. We believe that enhancing customer satisfaction is key to attaining this goal. We will please our customers through innovation, superior product quality, reliable delivery and outstanding customer support. This will be accomplished through quality management strategies that concentrate on identifying and satisfying the needs of both internal and external customers, training and empowering our team members, using data to manage our business and striving for continual improvement.